Wright County a beneficiary of flood relief funds

Several Minnesota counties will be receiving state, and likely federal, flood-relief funds and Wright County will be among them.

Within the county, funds will be spread among Delano, Rockford, the Wright County Highway Department, Cokato Township, Franklin Township near Delano, Marysville Township north of Waverly and Montrose, Monticello Township, and Silver Creek Township.

President Barack Obama declared a major disaster in Minnesota on Monday, following a request from Gov. Mark Dayton on July 9. The declaration will deliver federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts in areas affected by severe storms and flooding.

Before Dayton could request the presidential disaster declaration quickly, he directed the Minnesota Department of Public Safety to rapidly begin preliminary damage assessments. That allowed the state to secure $5 million in federal highway emergency funds to repair flood-damaged roads.

As of Monday, only eight counties were included in the president's declaration, but Dayton believes that number will continue to grow. He had requested funds for 51 counties, including Wright, which has yet to be included in the presidential declaration.

Throughout the state, the Federal Emergency Management Agency's damage assessment figures show $37.1 million in eligible expenses, including for debris removal; emergency protective measures; roads and bridges; water-control facilities; buildings and equipment; utilities; and parks, recreational facilities and other facilities.

FEMA will reimburse 75 percent of those approved costs, with Minnesota paying the balance.

Serving the community one pulltab at a time

What do the Maple Lake Lions and their charitable gambling do for Maple Lake? About $100,000 in projects and donations to organizations and causes within the community.

About 45 Lions make up the local club, which is in its 70th year of service. They meet at 7 p.m. on the second Thursday of every month at the Maple Lake American Legion Club and anyone is welcome to join. Contact President Jon Fries at 763-516-3656 or Ricci Smelser at 612-518-6451 for more information.

Some of the club's activities include: serving Irish stew during the St. Patrick's Day Festival, selling food during the Gear-Head Get Together, a pancake breakfast and Easter Candy Scramble on Palm Sunday and a fall pancake breakfast on the first Sunday in October, ditch cleanup for three miles of Minnesota Highway 55 just west of Maple Lake and Take a Senior Fishing Day, which is taking place on Saturday, Aug. 2.

In addition to these events, the club sponsors and supports many activities in Maple Lake. Charitable gambling makes the vast majority of this support possible, but what is it and how does it work?

The Lions conduct charitable gambling at three sites in Maple Lake – Madigan's Pub and Grill, The V by HH and Maple Lake as well as at Troubles Restaurant and Bar in Howard Lake.

At Madigan's, they sell pulltabs and host meat raffles at 5:30 p.m. every Friday of the year. They also host meat raffles there at 6:30 p.m. Wednesdays from Labor Day to Memorial Day and 1 p.m. on Saturdays between Nov. 1 and May 1, coinciding with bingo at those same times.

At The V by HH, they have pulltabs, as well as meat raffles at 5 p.m. on Fridays and Sundays.

"The purpose behind charitable gambling is to raise funds for the community and the charities that are at work in and around us," said Randy Mills, the gambling manager for the Lions. "It has a huge impact on our community."

And that's a huge difference between charitable gambling and other forms of gambling. The Minnesota Lottery, scratch-offs, casinos, etc. do nothing to give back to the local community, while charitable gambling profits stay in and around Maple Lake.

In the fiscal year that ended on June 30, the Lions donated $92,173.34 back to worthy causes and charities.

Almost every youth activity has benefited, as well as most other charitable causes.

For the third time, Dale Glader, of Maplewood, has won the Christopher Schneider Bass Fishing Tournament, this time with Travis Nordling, of Annandale. The two reeled in six fish totaling 17.22 pounds during the 10th installment of the memorial fishing tournament on Saturday.

Paul and Wayne Chapman, of Big Lake and Ramsey, respectively, came in second with a six-fish catch of 16.43 pounds.

Reigning champions Jeff and Kelli Johnson had to settle for third with their total of 16.14 pounds.

While Glader took first place, his 4.17-pounder lost to Jack Kiffe's 4.18-pounder for largest fish and the $280 prize that went with it.

Airport to have fixed base operator again

by Katie Friedman
Correspondent

A new fixed-base operator will soon be providing aircraft rentals, flight training and maintenance, with the possibility of mechanic training in the future, at the Maple Lake Municipal Airport.

The Maple Lake City Council voted Tuesday, July 15, to grant licensure for fixed base operations at Maple Lake Municipal Airport to Jason Erickson of Ascend Aviation. Erickson, who has been in business for five years, currently owns a flight school with three aircraft in Princeton and is looking to have the same number of aircraft at Maple Lake.

The airport has been functioning without an FBO since the beginning of 2013, when Wright Aero president Bill Mavencamp Jr. officially closed his office there, citing economic reasons as his motivation. A local institution, Wright Aero had provided flight school and charter flight service from the Maple Lake location since the company was launched in 1982. Mavencamp's father, Bill Mavencamp Sr., had been one of the prime movers in getting the airport established in 1967.

School board fulfills anti-bullying requirement

by Gabe Licht
Editor

In line with the recent passage of the Safe and Supportive Minnesota Schools Law, the Maple Lake School Board approved a bullying prohibition policy for the district.

"School districts are required by statute to have an anti-bullying policy," Superintendent Mark Redemske said during the meeting on Monday, July 14.

"I'll be honest with you, I don't know that it's going to change a whole lot from how we try to handle (bullying)," he continued.

Redemske did mention one aspect of battling bullying that existed long before the passage of the law.

"One thing that is a challenge is when something is going on at school and we find out it has something to do with social media at home," Redemske said.

High School Principal Dave Hansen vouched that problems from social media and texting often spill over into the halls of the high school.

He noted that the high school handbook, which was approved by the board the same night, will include a summary of the bullying policy, including the option for students to appeal a suspension related to the policy.

Elementary Principal Kris Harlan noted that Colleen Carlson, a special education teacher at the high school, will be penning an article for the fall school newsletter about what's new and different.

The language of the school's policy is modeled after the policy recommended by the Minnesota School Board Association.

While the board had discussed the bill at length in the past, including when citizens expressed concerns that the law could infringe upon students' religious freedoms, the mandated policy passed 4-0 with board members Ben Elsenpeter, Joe Paumen and Ed Trager absent.

The wording of the entire policy will be available online, as are all district policies, Redemske said.

In other business, the board:

- Learned that changes in equalization through the legislative session should save district taxpayers $98,416 for the 2014 fiscal year.

- Approved the district's 2014-15 health and safety budget at an estimated $53,741.75, more than the previous year's total of $32,444.96, as well as a nearly identical number for the 2015-16 budget estimate. Redemske noted that much of the increased cost was due to a fire door by the elementary art door as ordered by the fire marshal, pea rock for the playground and a bleacher certification, at a combined cost of about $16,900.

- Approved the following personnel changes: the resignation of Nate Rengel as a high school mathematics teacher and coach effective immediately, the resignation of Karen Carey as high school secretary effective July 17, the hiring of Beth Olson as a high school art teacher at .6 full-time equivalent beginning in the 2014-15 school year, the hiring of Christine Schultz as an early childhood family education and preschool teacher beginning in the 2014-15 school year and the hiring of LuAnn Grant as a cook beginning Sept. 2. The board also learned that Taher has a potential candidate to fill the food service director position vacated by Patrick Peden after the school year. Hansen thanked Carey for her years of service.

Brute's Bleat

The Maple Lake Lakers bounced back Sunday with a 7-6 win over Coon Rapids after losing to Hutchinson 4-2 Friday. Sunday's game kept the fans on the edge of their seats with a slim one-run lead going into the late innings. Jake Johnson came in for pitcher Jeremy Schmidt and preserved the one-run lead. It was a good game to watch, but the Lakers vs. D-C game last Wednesday was better when the Lakers were tied going into the ninth inning. Pitcher Mitch Wurm reached back for a little more and breezed through the top of the ninth and Derek Rachel slammed a walk-off home run to deep left-centerfield with two aboard for the 5-2 win. In my humble opinion the Lakers are the best entertainment in town. They finish out this year's schedule with St. Micheal here Friday night and Moorhead here Sunday afternoon. The only casualty Sunday was yours truly when a gust of wind sent one of the umbrellas airborne and roughed up my face just ahead of my right ear. A Maple Lake fireman in the stands responded to see if I needed any attention, which I appreciated, but all that was necessary was a band-aid from my billfold (something I've been in a habit of carrying, but seldom needed). Earlier I caught the same umbrella, but I didn't see it coming the second time.

Panfish angling has been an early morning sport for me a couple of times last week with mixed success. They were in about 13-14 feet on Maple Lake, but not as active or as large as earlier in the season. I had 12 keepers in the livewell after about three hours of fun. Friday morning I decided to see if Cedar Lake had anything to offer. It wasn't spectacular, but again I managed to keep 12. There was a lot of fishing action on Cedar besides the two fellows from Clearwater who were doing well bobber fishing, and a local angler. I'm referring to a large flock of cormorants who were busy herding the fish in front of Camp Courage while enjoying a meal. A story by Mike Mosedale (07/16/08) said Little Pelican, which is owned by the Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, is the site of the state's largest colony of double-crested cormorants. And for the last four years, it has also been ground zero for a burgeoning conflict between the fish-eating birds and fish-loving Minnesotans. We've noticed the cormorant numbers seem to have declined at Lake of the Woods the last few years, but I don't know that it has made a difference in walleye numbers.

At the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, regional fisheries manager Henry Drewes said he is convinced that four years of cormorant control has helped to hasten the remarkable recovery of walleyes and yellow perch numbers at Leech Lake. Both species went into steep declines around the time the cormorant colony on Little Pelican Island was booming.

"We do know that under lower density of cormorants we've seen a dramatic rebound of walleyes," said Drewes, who also credited intensive walleye stocking and stricter fishing regulations for the comeback. Whatever the cause, gill net sampling last fall (2008) yielded the second highest walleye numbers at Leech Lake since such research began a quarter century ago. In two years, Drewes said, perch numbers went from historic lows to historic highs.

It seems like the cormorants and pelicans choose different lakes each year in Wright County. It wasn't very many years ago that they were considered a problem on Buffalo Lake and only last year they seemed to invade Ramsey Lake in huge numbers and this year Rock has been one of their favorites as well as Cedar Lake.

"I don't know if there's any other bird that people have such a visceral hate for," observed Dr. Linda Wires, a research fellow at the University of Minnesota, who calls the cormorant "the most hated bird in the world." She suspects this is partly a matter of appearance; cormorants are large, black, and resemble an ungainly cross between a crow and a goose.

But, Wires noted, most of the enmity derives from a centuries-old conflict with sport and commercial fishermen, who, despite shaky evidence, remain convinced that the cormorant's robust appetite and skills as a predator are wreaking havoc on fisheries.

"You can document four hundred years of this perception in North America that cormorants are this big destructive force," said Wires. "In fishing communities, there is just such a low tolerance, almost zero tolerance, for cormorants. It doesn't seem to matter much what the data says." (From Mike Mosedale's 2008 story on cormorants).

Don't Let Back-to-School Tasks Sneak up on You

Parents, if this is your first time at the back-to-school rodeo, let me share a few lessons my wife and I have learned the hard way. Chances are you'll be spending the next few weeks filling out piles of pre-enrollment paperwork, lining up carpools and, of course, taking the dreaded shopping excursions for clothes and school supplies.

If you're a first-timer or simply need a back-to-school refresher course, here are a few suggestions that can help you save time, money and sanity:

Get organized. Maintain a correspondence file from your kid's school for things like registration requirements, report cards, permission slips, required vaccinations, school policies, teacher and parent contact information, etc. Ask whether the school has a website, online calendar or email list you can join. Also, create a family master calendar.

Back-to-school shopping. Between new clothes, classroom supplies and extracurricular activity fees and equipment, many parents end up spending hundreds of dollars per child. Ideally, you've been setting money aside all year. If not, you'll need to determine what you can afford to spend without blowing your overall budget.

Here are a few organizational and money-saving tips:

Before you shop, make a comprehensive list for each child. Use previous years' expenses as a guide and compare notes with other parents and school officials.

Engage your kids in the budgeting process. Share how much money is available to spend and get them involved in prioritizing expenses between "needs" and "wants."

Go through your kids' closets and have them try on everything. Make an inventory of items that fit and are in good shape, and take it when shopping so you don't accidentally buy duplicates. (While you're at it, share, sell or donate unneeded items.)

Spread clothing purchases throughout the year so your kids don't outgrow everything at once. Many stores hold fall clearance sales to make room for holiday merchandise.

Review the school's dress code so you don't waste money on inappropriate clothing.

Although shopping online can save money, time and gas, don't forget to factor in shipping and return costs, which could undo any net savings. If your kids are old enough, put them in charge of online comparison shopping and coupon clipping.

Ask which school supplies you're expected to buy. Go in with other families to take advantage of volume discounts and sales.

Find out how much extracurricular activities (athletics, music, art, etc.) cost. Account for uniforms, membership dues, private lessons, field trips, snacks, etc.

Rent or buy used sporting equipment or musical instruments until you're sure they'll stick with an activity.

Know when to spend more for higher quality. Cheaper notebook paper shouldn't matter, but don't buy poorly made shoes that might hamper proper physical development.

Before buying new clothing or accessories, look for "gently used" items in the closets of your older kids and friends, at garage sales, thrift and consignment stores and online.

Clip newspaper and online coupons. Many stores will match competitors' prices even if their own items aren't on sale. Plus, many consolidation websites post downloadable coupons and sale codes for online retailers, including: CouponCabin.com, CouponCode.com, CouponCraze.com, DealHunting.com and Dealnews.com.

Mobile shopping apps let in-store smartphone and mobile browser users scan product barcodes and make on-the-spot price comparisons, read reviews, download coupons, buy products and more.

Follow your favorite retailers on Facebook and Twitter, where many post special savings for their followers.

Bottom line: If you get organized before setting out on back-to-school shopping, you can save money, time and aggravation.

Pawlenty to Talk About

by Ed Pawlenty, Publisher

Yeehaw!!! Summer finally got here. Hopefully, she will stay a little later for us this fall so we can enjoy the lakes a bit longer. I don't know about you all, but this summer seems to be flying by exceptionally fast with so few opportunities to do the fun stuff like fishing, pontooning or just all around goofing off. Maybe some of you might have some advice, but I thought after the kids went to college and started their own lives, we parents would get a breather on the being so busy. ... Oh well.

For me, this year has been one nonstop project after the other. With the winter from (you know where) and all the spring rain, I was off to a very late start on my outside projects. Trying to ready a house for sale in the cities was an experience I wish upon no one. Uncovering hidden gems of the past stored in closets, cabinets, garage and basement and then deciding what to do with them is exhausting. I did not know we had so much stuff cubby-holed all over the place. I felt like I was on an archeological dig to uncover our past life ... so many treasures. There were even boxes of stuff from when I moved out of my parents' house after I got married ... and my college books ... ahh, the memories (Oops, she is yelling at me to get back to work ... better start making some moving noise).

While I think the things I find are all treasures, my wife thinks I'm a pain in the (you know what). She wants me to either donate or throw it all out ("but, honey, the things I'm finding are unbelievable"). There were toys I remember playing with the kids (of course, the kids say it was just me playing with the toys), electrical/plumbing supplies I never used ... meant to, and even an old stereo with turntable. I asked if she had found any great rock 'n roll records ... wanted to see if the stereo still worked (she answered "get back to work"). Next to be uncovered was a brand new headlamp for deer hunting ... still in the sealed package ... been looking for it. (Next season, I'll be able to see just how lost I am in the woods).

In an effort to lighten up our long days of cleaning, I would make a big deal over finding something long lost just to watch her reaction (I think she now wants to donate or toss me away ... better go make some more moving noise). I think in the final assessment, if we measure our lives by the trail of "treasures" we still have in the house, then we have had a very good life. Raising two great kids and all the "busy" we can handle during 29 years of life together must have been pretty good ... I was just too busy to notice 'til now.

Trailer, Skirts, and Extensions

Question: I have been seeing many tractor trailer rigs where, under the trailer, there is a skirt that I am assuming is for less drag. I have also seen maybe a half-dozen trailers that have an extension off the back of the trailer that I believe is also for increased aerodynamics. Are these extensions allowed even if they cause the overall length of the tractor trailer rig to exceed the state maximum length?

Answer: Very good question and I checked with the Minnesota State Patrol Commercial Vehicle Section and here is what I learned.

The air deflectors under the trailers are allowed; however, Minnesota State Statute 169.81 addresses length of trailers and specifically references non-cargo carrying equipment adjacent to the truck tractor used for safe and efficient operation as being allowed.

In other words, refrigeration units and air deflectors mounted on the front of semi-trailers are allowed without regard to maximum trailer length. Technically, by State Statute, a 53-foot trailer would not be a legal trailer in Minnesota with these rear deflectors mounted. Possibly, a 48-foot trailer could have them installed, as long as it was at or under the 53-foot maximum semi-trailer length law.

If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota, send your questions to Trp. Jesse Grabow – Minnesota State Patrol at 1000 Highway 10 West, Detroit Lakes, MN 56501-2205. (You can follow him on Twitter @MSPPIO_NW or reach him at jesse.grabow@state.mn.us).

Motorcycle vs. golf cart crash kills one

An accident involving a golf cart and motorcycle on Saturday afternoon has left one person dead.

Wright County deputies responded to the accident at 17205 46th St. NW near Wright County Highway 2 in French Lake Township at 3:40 p.m.

The driver and lone occupant of the motorcycle, Eric Lefebvre, 51, of Buffalo, was pronounced dead at the scene. He was wearing a helmet.

The driver and lone occupant of the golf cart, Korie Schiel, 36, of Chaska, was treated for minor injuries and released at the scene. South Haven rescue and Allina Ambulance assisted at the scene.

The Wright County Sheriff's Office is investigating the crash.

Lefebvre was an OB/GYN in Monticello and Buffalo and a father of four.

Golf carts are unauthorized on roads but communities can enact an ordinance allowing them on streets.

The V patio grand opening is July 31

Patrons enjoy lunch and beverages on the patio at The V by HH. Owner Harnanan (Harney) Heeralall said plans for the patio began a year ago when customers began asking for it. The patio will be open daily with the same hours as the bar. It will also be open for small and large parties. Heeralall plans to have music on the patio one time per month when weather permits. Though the patio has been open for a few weeks, the grand opening for it will kick off at 7:31 p.m. Thursday with a band playing until close. (Photo by Michele Pawlenty)

County budget season to begin soon

by John Holler
Correspondent

One sure sign of summer is when county commissioners begin budget preparations. Over the next two months, the Wright County Board of Commissioners will be preparing their 2015 draft budget and certified levy. At the July 15 meeting of the county board, the commissioners discussed the process that will be taken to determine the budget and levy numbers.

"The biggest thing for us is that we want to make sure that we keep the budgets and levy as low as reasonably possible," Commissioner Charlie Borrell said. "Last year, we had four new commissioners coming on board and, while we all had experience with budgets, the scope of the county budget process was a little overwhelming. Commissioner (Pat) Sawatzke was invaluable to us because of his experience with doing county budgets. This time around, we're all up to speed and we will have more time to spend on budgets this year than we had last year."

In its 2014 session, the state legislature pushed back the date that preliminary budget and levy numbers had to be approved from late August to Sept. 30. The county board will use the extra time to prioritize goals for projects that will need to be done in the county in the coming years, ranging from technological needs, equipment purchases, space availability at the county courthouse and the need to plan for existing and future facilities.

Part of the process will include having department heads present a five-to-10-year plan for their needs when they present their budget requests so the board can be aware of those needs and prioritize them within departments and rank the needs from one department against those of other departments. The county has a history of turning back funds unused from a year's budget, but Auditor/Treasurer Bob Hiiivala cautioned the board not to rely on turn-back funds because they aren't guaranteed.

The board will schedule budget committee of the whole meetings over the next two months, in which the process of reviewing and approving department budgets will take place. Borrell said he anticipates a lot of work being involved but the process will likely be easier this year than it was last year.

"We're going to go through every budget and determine what we need, both in the short-term and the long-term," Borrell said. "The additional time will give us the opportunity to take a more comprehensive look at what we're facing in the future. We're going to do our best to keep our budgets and levy as close to the current numbers as we can, but we're not going to simply cut things to have a low number. We're responsible to the residents of Wright County and we're going to work to keep the costs down while providing a level of service they can expect from us. It's not always easy but, with the experience we got last year from doing the budget process, there will likely be fewer surprises because we've been through this before."

In other business the board:

- Approved a request from the city of Albertville to acquire 17 tax-forfeit parcels. Under state law, if a local government seeks to acquire tax-forfeit property for a public purpose, it is given precedence to purchase the properties at the determined value of the property.

- Authorized signatures on a lease agreement between the county on behalf of the Beebe Lake Regional Park and the Three Rivers Park District, which is part of the Hennepin County Park Reserve District.

- Approved the parks department to continue a program called "Kids Don't Float," which is sponsored by Cabela's, to provide personal flotation devices at Cedar Lake. The program, also sponsored by the Cedar Lake Conservation Club, seeks to educate the public to the dangers of water and the need for wearing life jackets.

- Was introduced to new property appraiser Mike Vanderlinden, who will be assigned to conduct property appraisals in the Otsego area.

- Approved a request by the assessor's office to use a room that formerly housed the sheriff's department dispatch area for the storage and retention of records. State law requires assessment records to be retained for at least seven years, with many required to be retained indefinitely. The plan is to eventually move the assessor's office to the vacated sheriff's area.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column, and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

BCT's musical 'The Producers'

This summer, Buffalo Community Theater has sparkly showgirls, outrageous comedians and dancing Nazis. It's all part of the spoof salute to Broadway written by Mel Brooks, known as The Producers, playing its last three performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In this musical comedy, has-been producer Max Bialystock and timid accountant Leo Bloom hatch a plan to put on the worst Broadway show possible, have it close in one evening, then take the backers' money and escape to Rio. But plans go uproariously awry when their awful show, "Springtime for Hitler" becomes a surprise hit.

Director Erin Walsh calls the show "a complete romp through all things Broadway, where no one is spared from a good skewering – from blondes, to little old ladies, to accountants, to Nazis."

Tickets are available through the BCT website at BCTMN.org. Tickets will also be available at the door.

The production runs Thursday July 24 through Saturday July 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the air-conditioned Buffalo High School Performing Arts Center. This activity is made possible by the voters of Minnesota through grants from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the Central Minnesota Arts Board, thanks to a legislative appropriation from the arts and cultural heritage fund.

DNR question of the week

Q: How old do muskie get, and how long does it take to grow a 50-incher?

A: The oldest muskellunge I have aged was 22 years, and muskellunge in Canadian waters have been aged up to 30 years old.

In both cases, ages were assessed using the cleithrum, a calcified structure that requires lethal sampling and is collected from harvested fish anglers bring into taxidermy shops.

Traditional aging methods used scales because they were easy to sample and fish didn't have to be sacrificed. Various studies have since found the scale aging method underestimates age, particularly for larger fish.

Growth and ultimate size can vary among bodies of water, depending on factors such as lake productivity, forage and genetics. Depending on the body of water, muskellunge in Minnesota could take 13 to 21 years to reach 50 inches.

Obituary

David Fred Larson, Monticello

David Fred Larson, age 70, of Monticello, died on Monday July 14, 2014, from injuries received in a motor vehicle accident which occurred in St. Michael. Visitation was 5 to 8 p.m. Friday, July 18, at Peterson-Grimsmo Chapel, 250 East Broadway, Monticello. There was a prayer service at 5:30 p.m. Further visitation was one hour prior to the funeral at the church on Saturday. Mass of Christian Burial was 10:30 a.m. Saturday, July 19, at St. Henry Catholic Church, 1001 East Seventh Street, Monticello. Fr. Tony VanderLoop officiated. Interment was at St. Henry Cemetery. Funeral arrangements are with the Peterson-Grimsmo Chapel of Monticello.

David was born Sept. 3, 1943, in Kokato, to Rueben and Pauline (Bolduc) Larson. He grew up near Albion Center and attended country school there. He graduated from Annandale High School. On April 10, 1964, he was united in marriage to Sharon Eichten. The couple raised their family in Maple Lake and have made their home in Monticello for the past 28 years. David had worked for Mammoth Industries and Nu Aire Inc. He enjoyed wood-working, fishing and playing cards. His greatest joy in life was being "Papa" and spending time with his grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Rueben and Pauline, sister, Sharon Remer and brother, Duwayne Larson. David is survived by his loving wife, Sharon; son, Kevin (Anne) Larson, of Clearwater; daughter, Paula (Todd) Roberts, of Monticello; eight grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; brother, Loren (Linda) Larson, of Buffalo; several nieces and nephews; and several brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law.

Kiffe was joined by his wife, Mary. Together, the team finished fourth with a total of 14.49 pounds.

Rounding out the field were: 5th: Bill Niccum and Justin Heland, of Mound, 12.88 pounds; 6th: Kris Merters and Mark Stowe, 12.41 pounds; 7th: Brad Seivert, of St. Michael, and Aaron Anderson, of Ramsey, 10.55; 8th: Don Schauf and Chandler Rask, of Maple Lake,

9.76 pounds; 9th: Chad Chapman, of Ramsey, and David Asp, of Birchwood, 9.63 pounds; 10th: Shane Caughey, of Maple Lake, and Jake McCarty, of Coon Rapids, 9.48; 11th: Nicole Holt and Nathan Kranz, of Monticello, 9.22 pounds; 12th: Mark Ronning, of Bagley, and Tom McFarlane, of Anoka, 8.84 pounds; 13th: Vern Wagner, of Minneapolis, and Fred Poehlmann, 7.41 pounds; 14th:

Brandon Andres and Matt Schneider, of Clearwater, 6.88 pounds; and 15th: Adam Dalum and Hunter Dalum, of Maple Lake, 6.14 pounds.

Organizer Barb Schneider said the event went well.

"They all brought in fish, so that's a good thing," Schneider said.

Despite a light sprinkle earlier in the day, the weather cleared and cooperated for the bulk of the tournament and the weigh-in. Pleasant weather also boosted the number of spectators, including kids who participated in the Casting Kids competition.

Kylie Schwanke won the 7-11 age bracket, followed by last year's winner, Jaleal Gray, and a three-way tie between Jazlynn Baker, Maggie Johnson and Kennedy Fercho for third.

Winning the 15-18 division was Justin Klaphake.

The profits from the tournament will go toward three $500 scholarships for Maple Lake High School students.

Those scholarships are one way to remember Christopher Schneider, who was killed in a car accident on April 27, 2003, during his junior year at MLHS. He was an avid bass fisherman, leading to the formation of the tournament in his honor every year since his passing.

Lakers go 2-1 to conclude regular season

by Matt Brown
Sports Writer

The Lakers wrapped up the regular season Sunday, finishing first in the North Star League with a 20-2 record. The Lakers will have the top seed in the Region 12C tournament, which will be in Maple Lake starting July 30.

Dassel-Cokato Saints 2
Maple Lake Lakers 5

The Lakers hosted a spirited D-C Saints team who was looking to avenge a 10-3 loss earlier in the year.

The Saints put pressure on early, putting men in scoring position in the early innings before they managed to get two across in the top of the third.

Starting pitcher Mitch Wurm helped himself in the fifth by scoring the first Laker run while Derek Rachel added another to tie the game.

The Saints buckled down after giving up the lead, changing pitchers and largely shutting down the Laker offense. Dassel's pitcher started to waiver in the ninth and the Lakers were able to capitalize, putting two men on before Rachel blasted a walk-off, three-run home run over the left-center fence, securing the win and the regular-season title.

Wurm pitched all nine innings and gave up seven hits and one walk with eight strikeouts.

Hutchinson Huskies 4

The Lakers ended their North Star League season in Hutchinson Friday night with a close loss to the Huskies.

Maple Lake scored first in the top of the second, only to have Hutchinson even the score later in the inning.

The Huskies scored in the third, only to have the Lakers answer back in the fourth.

Maple Lake managed to get hits throughout the game but had trouble stringing them together.

Hutchinson put together a two-run rally in the eighth that the Lakers could not match in the ninth.

Ben Jungers started and went seven innings, giving up five hits and four walks with five strikeouts for a no decision. Todd Fuller closed out the game giving up two hits and one walk with two strikeouts.

Maple Lake hosted B section squad Coon Rapids in an exciting non-conference game Sunday afternoon.

The Redbirds jumped on starting pitcher Jeremy Schmidt and the Lakers early, putting up one in the first inning. Maple Lake came back aggressively, scoring three in the first and one in the second.

The scoring for both teams see-sawed until the seventh inning, when pitching and defense for both sides kept the score locked at 7-6.

Schmidt went 6.1 innings, giving up 11 hits, no walks and recording five strikeouts. Jake Johnson went 2.2 innings of relief, giving up no hits, four walks and fanning four Redbirds.

Luke Fobbe had three hits, Brian Redemske got a triple and a stolen base and the team totaled eight walks.

Legion team's season ends despite putting up a fight

by Gabe Hance
Sports Writer

Maple Lake Legion 4
Rockford Legion 3

Maple Lake Legion Post 131 squared off against Rockford Legion Post 102 on Wednesday, July 16, a playoff game. Maple Lake needed the win to have a chance to move on to the state tournament in Browerville. Maple Lake also needed Rockford to beat Howard Lake the next day to move on. The game was initially scheduled for July 7, but was cancelled due to rain. Maple Lake was the away team but played at Irish Stadium, due to lack of fields in Rockford.

An early high-scoring game began to emerge in the first three innings as Post 131's bottom of the lineup loaded the bases in the top of the second, but couldn't drive in any runs after pop-ups to the infield. Rockford also left two runners in scoring position in the bottom of the second.

Both teams scored in the third. Maple Lake scored two runs off three, back-to-back-to-back hits from Jack Seibert, Nick Preisinger and Damian Kaley. Rockford, again, repeated after Maple Lake. They drove in their first run with a man on first and back-to-back errors, putting a man on third with only one out and making the score 2-1 in favor of Post 131. A single from Drew VanDehey tied the game up at 2-2.

Maple Lake put constant pressure on Rockford, chewing through their bullpen and causing three pitchers to come in relief for Rockford. Rockford, however, managed to do the same against Post 131's starter, Tony Goelz. Four defensive errors gave Rockford a chance to hold on and stick with Maple Lake's ever-present offense. Three out of the four errors resulted in runs, giving Rockford three key runs to keep their post-season hopes alive.

The top of the fifth inning started off with a leadoff error, putting Cal Redemske on first. A single from Seibert moved Redemske into scoring position. An unexpected bunt from Preisinger moved both runners into scoring position and almost gave Maple Lake a bases-loaded situation, but Preisinger was thrown out by one stride. A wild pitch drove in Redemske giving Maple Lake a 3-2 lead.

Rockford engineered momentum in the bottom of the fifth with a lead-off single from Brandon Schumaker. A throwing error coming from Goelz and a stolen base put Schumaker on third with no outs. With a tie to hold, Goelz needed to hunker down and pitch perfectly. He managed to get an infield pop-up causing the first out. A swinging strikeout gave Post 131 another crucial out. The next batter, VanDehey, had already driven in a run for Rockford but, after Goelz went up 2-2, he caused VanDehey to ground out to second, ending the inning and leaving Schumaker stranded on third.

Both teams scored in the sixth after defensive errors and clever base running. As the final pitcher came in relief for Rockford, Post 131 managed to have runners on third and second with two walks and sacrifice flies. They didn't score after a poor at-bat from Lucas Fobbe pop-up to the second baseman.

With the score 4-3 going into the bottom of the seventh and the top of the order coming to bat, Goelz was pulled and Hunter Malachek, a left-handed pitcher and incoming sophomore, came in for the save.

"Tony had a good game," manager Ryan Haney said after the game, "we just needed Malachek to step up and get the last outs."

Malachek got the first out with a pop-up to the first baseman. The next batter walked and later moved over to second with a single from Tommy Train. With men on first and second, Malachek needed the next two at-bats to be crucial and every pitch to be perfect. VanDehey was caught looking and Malachek got the strikeout. The next at-bat was very tense and exciting as Brady Boedekker stepped to the plate for Rockford with two outs and a season to save. Malachek was also in the same boat and fell behind in the pitch count 1-0 and then 1-1. The next pitch was a breaking ball and over the plate. Boedekker swung and popped up to the shortstop McRae Haney for the last out of the game.

"It was very exciting and very nerve racking as he pitched to older and more experienced players, but it is good for his learning process and will make him a better player and person," Judy Malachek said about her son after the game.

All Maple Lake needed next was Rockford to beat Howard Lake the next day to move on to the state tournament.

Maple Lake Legion Post 131 took on an unfamiliar opponent in Excelsior Legion Post 259. The game took place on Thursday July 17 in Maple Lake.

When a parent of an Excelsior player was asked how their team was and the contents of their lineup, he replied, “The team is made up of seniors and juniors from Minnetonka High School (AAA) and over half of them were starters or have played sometime throughout their high school career on varsity.”

Maple Lake’s assistant coach Brian Redemske added, “Experience and how big your town is doesn't matter in baseball. It only matters how big your desire to win is.” Meanwhile, in Howard Lake, Rockford’s Legion team needed to beat Howard Lake for Maple Lake to move on to the state tournament. Without knowledge prior to the game, Legion Post 131 later learned Howard Lake beat Rockford 13-0, ending their season.

With Excelsior being a relatively unknown baseball team, Maple Lake was expected to come out and be competitive regardless of the outcome between Rockford and Howard Lake.

The game was more competitive than anyone would have thought. The ending score was 20-18 in favor of the visiting team. The run-time was 3 hours 27 minutes long, longer than most nine-inning games. Regardless, it was perhaps the best game of the season and the last for outgoing senior Nick Gapinski. He is enlisted in the US Air Force and will be leaving in the upcoming weeks.

Maple Lake Legion Post 131 took on an unfamiliar opponent in Excelsior Legion Post 259. The game took place on Thursday, July 17, in Maple Lake.

When a parent of an Excelsior player was asked how their team was and the contents of their lineup, he replied, “The team is made up of seniors and juniors from Minnetonka High School (AAA) and over half of them were starters or have played sometime throughout their high school career on varsity.”

Maple Lake’s assistant coach Brian Redemske added, “Experience and how big your town is doesn't matter in baseball. It only matters how big your desire to win is.” Meanwhile, in Howard Lake, Rockford’s Legion team needed to beat Howard Lake for Maple Lake to move on to the state tournament. Without knowledge prior to the game, Legion Post 131 later learned Howard Lake beat Rockford 13-0, ending their season.

Nick Preisinger was the first pitcher for Maple Lake. In warm-ups he looked OK, with some pitches in the dirt and others looking great.

12U softball to State

The Maple Lake 12U Tier 1 softball team won the state qualifier in Hutchinson on Saturday. They will go on to play in the state tournament Friday through Sunday in Buffalo. Pictured in front are Bryn Elsenpeter, Ethan Pau- men and Megan Carlson. Pictured in the second row are Ellie Jude, Mikayla Koss, Olivia Pau- men and Lexy Bakeberg. ## 13AA baseball team to state

The Maple Lake 13AA baseball team completed a sweep of their league, with a tournament championship in Hutchinson on June 11-13. They won the regular season posting a 10-2 league record, then proceeded to win the Crow River League Tournament by posting an 11-8 win over Delano, then bounced back from a 9-2 loss to Litchfield with a 10-2 win over Mound-Westonka and advanced to the semifinals against Hutchinson. The opponents had placed fourth in the 2013 MSF State Tournament, beating Maple Lake by one run, to reach the semifinals. Maple Lake won this hard-fought game 5-2, which earned them a spot in the Championship vs. undefeated Litchfield. Maple Lake came out ready to avenge their earlier loss. They started strong with four runs in the first inning punctuated by Zach Cargill's two-run homer over the 280' left-field fence. Ben Goelz, then followed up with a solo homer, over the 280' right-field fence in the second inning. Not to be outdone, Litchfield clawed their way back into the game run-by-run. Thanks to some great pitching, defense, hitting and base running, the team was able to hang on to defeat the feisty Dragons 8-7. This year's 13AA team will take a 16-4 overall record into the MSF State Tournament in Marshall the weekend Friday through Sunday. They qualified for the MSF State Tournament by placing second in the Glen-coe-Silver Lake-Plato Wood Bat Tournament on June 6-8. ### WCCA Head Start now enrolling Wright County Community Action is currently enrolling for the 2014-15 Head Start program year. Operating home-based options and 11 centers throughout Wright County and western Hennepin County, Head Start offers a comprehensive preschool program.

The goal of the Head Start Program is to provide every family in the program the best way for their 3- to 5-year-old child to learn. To prepare children and families for a successful future, WCCA Head Start offers: School readiness activities, developmental and hearing/vision screening, health and nutrition services, parent engagement opportunities and transportation, whenever possible. Head Start has a variety of program options. There is no cost for the Head Start program. Call the WCCA Head Start office at 320-963-6500 for more information.

Payne graduates from U of M Med School

Robert Maurice Payne, of Buffalo, has graduated from the University of Minnesota Medical School with a family medicine degree. He is the son of R. Lynn and Molly Payne and the grandson of Phyllis Smith and the late Maurice "Bud" Smith, of Buffalo, and the late Roland and Fran Payne, of Buffalo.

Wurm named to U of M dean's list

Maple Lake High School graduate Heather Wurm has been named to the University of Minnesota's dean's list for academic excellence in the College of Liberal Arts for the spring semester.

Library Programs and Events

Several programs are keeping readers of all ages busy at the Maple Lake Library this summer:

Preschool storytime with Marie

Marie Mavencamp will celebrate "Favorite Children's Authors" at the library with preschoolers ages 2 - 5 at 10 a.m. each Thursday until Aug. 21. Each week she will read a book and conduct story-related activities including songs, games, craft activities and snacks. Children must be accompanied by an adult. This activity is free and no registration is required.

Young reader storytime with Sara

Sara Hagen invites new readers to come to the library, enjoy a book or two and a related craft activity from 10 to 11 a.m. on Mondays until Aug. 18. She will introduce children to books and authors that will help strengthen the love of reading, or she may provide the spark that will interest reluctant readers. This activity is geared toward children who have completed kindergarten, but all beginning readers are welcome. There is no charge for this program and registration is not required. An adult does not need to remain for the session, but should sign in the participant. At Thursday's young reader storytime, the focus was on nonfiction books about animals. The participants learned interesting things about how and why animals do what they do. They read the book, "What If You Had Animal Teeth?" and made a craft where they got to pick out a new pair of teeth. At the next storytime, at 10 a.m. Monday, the young readers will read books about monsters and make their own.

Summertime books with Boone

Lisa Perovich and her greyhound, Boone, will encourage readers to "paws to read" at 10 a.m. on Tuesdays until Aug. 19. She will read a story with a dog character then review the story with a game. Participants will read aloud to Boone and complete a story-related arts/crafts, writing, or other activity. They will also have the opportunity to check out a library book. This activity is geared toward first and second graders, but all readers are welcome. There is no charge for this program, and registration is not required. An adult does not need to remain for the session, but should sign in the participant.

Summer read & redeem

This is a free reading incentive program for children ages 5 and up through Aug. 26. Participants pick up a slip each week at the library and check out a book at an appropriate reading level. They record the book they read on the slip and return it the next week to redeem it for that week's prize. All returned slips are put into the Grand Prize jars. At the end of the program, three names will be drawn from each age group and the winners will receive a $10 gift card for Buffalo Books.

Book club

This book club for adult readers meets at 11 a.m. on the second Thursday of each month through Aug. 14 at Irish Blessings Coffeehouse in Maple Lake. Most books are supplied in book club kits, so it is easy to borrow a copy. This activity is free, but registration is requested. Visit or contact the Maple Lake Library.

Preschool Storytime focused on "nighttime friends" on Thursday. Eighteen children brought their favorite bedtime cuddle toy or blanket to help them listen to stories by author Mo Willems. "Knuffle Bunny" and "Don't Let the Pigeon Stay Up Late" were funny stories the children really enjoyed. They also sang songs and learned poems about nighttime and bedtime. Then they drew a picture of what they thought their "Knuffle Bunny" would like to do. These children attended: Elijah Doran, George Sylvester, Payton Schwindel, Lucas Schwindel, Clark Hawkinson, Oliver Hawkinson, Rylie Barker, Emma Stoll, Brian Whitler, Adler Whitler, Ryder Dettwiler, Cooper West, Colton Klatt, Sophia Norberg, Allie Ertel, Carter Ertel, Elena Castro, and Larson Melgaard.

Preschoolers talk about, share nighttime friends

Youngsters read to a dog about a cat

Lisa Perovich read "Dewey: There's a Cat in the Library" to youngsters with her dog, Boone, at the Maple Lake Library on Tuesday. They also went on a scavenger hunt and drew their favorite thing about the library and completed a word find. Pictured are (front) Dylan Hennen, Charlie Peterson, Kalli Hennen, Keeley Dirks, Ellie Ogram, (back) Danica Hageman, Brynn Ortiz, Perovich with Boone, Hans Peterson, Kenlyn Marsicek and Ben Ogram.

'Messy Science' at the library

The theme for this Monday's Young Reader story time at the Maple Lake Library was messy science. The group read a story about a little boy who was conducting science experiments with all the stinky, yucky things in his very messy room. After the story, it was time for the groups to investigate and experiment themselves. During the rest of the hour, the group explored chemical reactions, colors, textures, sights, and smells. They tried cloud dough, burping bags and a volcano, among other experiments. The children went home messy and excited. Young readers are invited to join the group at 10 a.m. Monday for the event. Pictured are (front) Savanna Geyen, Lily Lofgren, Olive Anderson, Charlie Peterson, (back) Caleb Hagen, Evan Geyen, Mikaela Lofgren, Katie Hagen, Kiara Anderson and Brynn Ortiz.

He also noted that he and three math teachers had interviewed a candidate for Rengel's position and that he had an interview scheduled with a candidate for Carey's position on the following Thursday.

- Set the district's Truth in Taxation hearing for 8 p.m. Dec. 8.
- Renewed the district's membership in the MSBA at a cost of $4,437, which was about the same price as the previous year.

- Approved the 2014-15 activities handbook, with the only changes related to increased fees already approved by the board. Those fees increased by $15 per activity, with the family maximum unchanged at $400.
- Approved a 6 percent salary increase to the 2014-15 Quality

Compensation leadership positions as presented by outgoing Q Comp advisor Tanya Malwitz at the June 9 meeting. The recommendation had been tabled until the costs, which amounted to about $400, could be calculated.

- Accepted an anonymous donation of $500 to the district's preschool program.

Alyssa Bergeren The things I will miss about the elementary is my favorite teachers because I know my teachers so well now and they are like my family. Another thing I will miss about Maple Lake's Elementary is the snack cart and scheduled snack time. There is one specific person I will miss a lot because she is a super funny and nice teacher. Her name is Mrs. Des-Marias Holland She always has a smile on her face and is ready to go when it comes to trying new things. She makes learning fun.

Dannielle Germain What I will miss about Maple Lake Elementary is my teachers Mrs. DesMarias Holland, Mr. Fuchs, and Mrs. Decker. I will miss how Mr. Fuchs made math easier. I will miss Mrs. Kosloski and Mr. Brown. I enjoyed to get to know my teachers in Elementary and will miss the fun games we played. Sometimes I'm sure I will miss recess.

Brandon Schmitz What I will miss about Maple Lake Elementary is not seeing my friends as often and having fun during recess. I will also miss all my teachers because they helped me through my whole elementary career. I will miss the field trips. Those were always a highlight of my school year. The trips gave us a chance to meet new people and just hang out with friends. The thing I will miss the most is probably the 6th grade field trip to Wolf Ridge. That was a great experience for me because I learned how to use a compass.

To assist the fledgling operator in getting off the ground, the council voted to waive all associated fees until Jan. 1, 2015. In addition, the Airport Commission is looking at the potential for re-opening a seaplane base on Maple Lake.

Arrangements are currently being made between Erickson and Mavencamp to transfer a fuel facility agreement to Erickson. The council will review and update the agreement at its August meeting.

In other business, the council:

- Approved amendments to the city's comprehensive land-use plan, designating a large area of land surrounding the airport as appropriate for new businesses. Land designated for light industrial use has been expanded compared to the 1998 plan to allow for additional economic development activities. Additional industrial land is adjacent to the north and west of the city limits along Minnesota Highway 55 and north of the airport. Copies of the new land-use map will be available on the city's website and at city hall once these amendments are recorded. The council also gave permission to the planning commission to look at updating some of the city's zoning ordinances.
- Tabled a vote on Scott Christian's application for a conditional use permit to build a ground-floor apartment in his building at 66 Birch Avenue, as Christian was unable to attend the meeting.
- Heard from Mayor Lynn

Kissock that the tri-city wastewater treatment plant commissioners are revisiting the fee schedule and considering adding a base rate to the flow rate in an effort to maintain a more consistent revenue stream. The council also voted to have Kissock and Councilmember John Northenscald to request the commission to issue a request for proposal for new management at the treatment site, once Councilmember Deb Geyen gathers written data on possible alternatives.

- Approved payment No. 3 of $289,413.51 to LaTour Construction for work on the 2014 Street Improvement Project, which covers work through the end of June and some estimated quantities that still require contractor documentation for final payment.

- Approved a deferred assessment application by William and Bridget Timmers for the 2014 Street Improvement Project on their property at 26 Linden Ave. N. The assessed amount of $12,465 will be deferred for 15 years, with interest to accruing normally over that time period.

- Approved a special Inflow and Infiltration assessment agreement with Chris and Pete Collins, 46 Linden Ave. S., for $3,640 over two years at 3 percent interest, contingent upon the execution of a properly signed special assessment agreement.

- Voted to appoint Joanne Foust and Municipal Development Group, Inc. to provide economic development services as needed.

- Agreed to study and reconsider membership in the Wright County Economic Development Partnership, after hearing a presentation from new Executive Director Duane Northagan. The council voted a few years ago to part ways with the organization, due to dissatisfaction with its benefits. Calculated by population figures and a base fee, Maple Lake's membership dues would be $763.80 this year.

- Approved a lease with AT&T for antenna placement atop the city's water tower, contingent upon sufficient escrow funds, a sign-off by the city's engineer and maintenance department, a $100,000 surety, approval by Utility Services and other minor housekeeping issues.

- Authorized city maintenance crews to assist with curbside brush pickup during Buff 100 Maple Lake, Saturday, Aug. 9.

- Approved an insurance agreement with the Maple Lake Chamber of Commerce for large city festivals.

- Amended approval of road closures for the Gear-Head Get Together on Aug. 16, to exclude Park Avenue, as fresh pavement and concrete on that street will still require curing time.

- Approved a temporary on-sale beer license to St. Timothy's Church Fall Festival on Sept. 28, providing all regulations are observed.

- Approved the hiring of a new part-time clerk at the liquor store.

- Approved, by a 4-0 vote, with Councilmember Bart Lauer abstaining, to hire Sue Ditters for ambulance duty on a six-month trial basis.

- Directed staff to review leash ordinances and send letters to owners of rental properties requesting renters to pick up after their dogs or face the risk of fines.
- Spotlighted Thomes Insurance with a presentation by Greg Thomes, who informed the council his company will be celebrating its 80th anniversary Thursday, Aug. 14, at Sturges Park in Buffalo with food and live music from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

The city council and school board will hold a joint meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 29, at city hall. The city council's next regular meeting will be 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 19.

Lions

The Lions are sponsors of the following school events or activities: Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets for about 30 families, Silent Santa, the Veterans Day program at Maple Lake High School, the Parents In Education Halloween Program, the Maple Lake Elementary School of Excellence celebration and the Maple Lake High School Post Prom Party. Other school programs that benefit from the Lions are the band, Spanish Club, PIE, track, seventh-grade basketball and the MLE school safety patrol. The Lions are also the major sponsor of the Maple Lake Ambassadors, they provide funds for maintaining the Maple Lake Swimming Beach and maintain the pavilion at the city park, which they will be upgrading in the future. “As you can see by the above facts, everybody in our community benefits from our efforts,” Mills said. “It provides opportunities for our youth that probably wouldn’t be there otherwise, helps out people in need and makes our community one of the best places to live in Minnesota.” In addition to helping local causes, the Lions were required to pay $81,857 in taxes to the state of Minnesota.

“Just imagine what that kind of money could do for our community?” Mills said. On a more positive note, he encourages the community to keep charitable gambling in mind when choosing how to spend their gambling dollars. “Go out and support our businesses, participate, have fun and savor the fact that you are helping raise money for a great community,” he said.

Legion baseball

Catching for Post 131 was Nate Maas, who hadn’t caught all season. In warmups, he look shaky and dropped some pitches. This dynamic haunted Post 131 throughout the early innings of the game. Two back-to-back errors put runners on first and third and were later driven in. Another run was driven in from a walk, making the score 3-0 while Excelsior batted around their order. Maple Lake managed to score a run in the bottom of the first with a sacrifice fly from Jack Seibert to drive in McRae Haney. The next inning was not forgiving or merciful for Maple Lake as Excelsior scored five more runs off three hits and two walks to create an 8-1 deficit. Ryan Haney made the change early to bring in left-handed pitcher Hunter Malachuk and switch McRae Haney to catcher and Nate

Maas to shortstop. These changes gave Post 131 a scoreless inning and a chance to come closer to Excelsior’s lead. Post 131 came back in the third after Cal Redemske drove in two runs with a standup double and Preisinger also doubled to drive in Redemske and make the score 4-8. Four stolen bases in the fourth inning gave Excelsior two more runs and a six-run lead. In the bottom of the fourth Maple Lake established a niche in Excelsior’s pitching, that they could hit off anybody and score. The next two innings resulted in Post 131 inching closer to Excelsior’s seemingly unsurmountable lead after scoring one run in the fourth and six more in the fifth. Two runs came from Maas with an opposite field, bases clearing triple and he was later batted in. With this stupendous inning, Maple Lake tied the score at 11-11. Excelsior came back with a vengeance in the sixth as pitching fell apart with three hit batters and three more getting aboard with walks, resulting in two runs being driven in for free and another three coming from three hits, later in the inning. Maple Lake’s disastrous inning gave Excelsior a 17-11 lead. “We weren’t going to give up at any point in the game,” Nick Gapinski said, “It didn’t matter what the score was, we weren’t going away.” Post 131 did exactly that, scoring another seven runs, with three driven in by a Redemske bases-loaded double. Three more runs came from Preisinger and Kaley with back-to-back hits. This colossal inning gave Legion Post 131 their first lead of the game at 18-17. Gapinski had pitched the previous inning and came back to close in the top of the seventh. The first batter he faced popped up to the first basemen for the first out. The next batter was punched out on a very close call from home plate umpire Mark Redemske. An anonymous fan said after the game that Redemske called a “fair game and his strike zone was close and consistent.” The next batter didn’t face Gapinski as Tony Goelz was brought in, after pitching six innings the day before against Rockford, to close the ball game. Goelz walked his first batter, loading the bases for Excelsior. The next batter swung at his first pitch, sending a soaring liner to left field and out of reach of a diving Giebenhain, driving in three runs and giving Excelsior a 20-18 lead. The bottom of the seventh inning was the last inning Legion Post 131 played this season as they had one hit and left one runner on base. As strike three was called for the final out, an expletive was cursed out by the visiting pitcher, Ryan Matsui, showing the sportsmanship and respect the Excelsior team had for their “deceiving” win over Maple Lake. Later, when the teams were shaking hands, words were passed between coaches and fans of Excelsior toward Post 131 that almost resulted in a brawl, but was disregarded with maturity coming from Maple Lake’s veteran leaders and some responsible parents and coaches of Excelsior. “It was a great game to play in and be apart of,” Gapinski said after playing his last game in a Legion uniform. “I wish we could have won but I had fun and I won’t forget this for the rest of my life.”

The trip also taught me how to go on the rope courses and showed me how to find out if a lake is dirty or clean. Maple Lake Elementary has been a great experience. Lillian Shae VonArb The things I will miss most at Maple Lake Elementary school is the teachers and all the support they gave me. They would leave kids do their work without answering a question. If you needed help they would give it. They were always there and helped make us ready for High School. You learned to trust them knowing they were helping you to move on. They opened doors for me to go forward on my own. I would not have made it this far without my teachers. I will miss Maple

Lake Elementary very much. Lindsey Paumen What I will miss about Maple Lake Elementary is the fun teachers that make learning fun. I will miss how they helped me through a lot of situations throughout the year and always had creative projects for us students. 6th grade was the best year ever. Thank you Teachers and Staff!
